Re: Ottawa schools won't stand in the way of students attending Global Climate Strike, online edition, Sept. 25 All students who march out of class for the overhyped Saint Greta Pilgrimage on climate action should be made to serve detentions after class the following week. Taxpayers foot the bill for these alleged halls of learning, and taking an extra long weekend is not part of the tab. Besides, there will be many who will take advantage of this outing to do other things not exactly connected with saving the planet.

STEPHEN FLANAGAN OTTAWA

(While we don't disagree, it's worth noting that kids who will be doing "other things" likely don't need an excuse to cut class.) !@COPYRIGHT=© 2019 Sun Media Corporation. All rights reserved.
